

Women Becoming Mathematicians: A Look Back (and a Look Forward)

Margaret Murray

Professor

University of Iowa and ACT, Inc.

In this talk for a general audience, I'll give an overview of the history of women in mathematics, with emphasis upon the remarkable gains made by women in the American mathematical community during the 20th century. I'll also engage in some imaginative speculation about future prospects for women in mathematics.